Caring Connections, a program of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization (NHPCO), is a national consumer engagement initiative to improve care at the end of life.

Caring Connections tracks and monitors all state and federal legislation and significant court cases related to end-of-life care to ensure that our advance directives are up to date.

It's About How You LIVE

It's About How You LIVE is a national community engagement campaign encouraging individuals to make informed decisions about end-of-life care and services. The campaign encourages people to:

- Learn about options for end-of-life services and care
- Implement plans to ensure wishes are honored
- Voice decisions to family, friends and healthcare providers
- Engage in personal or community efforts to improve end-of-life care

Using these Materials

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

1. Check to be sure that you have the materials for each state in which you may receive healthcare.
2. These materials include:
  - Instructions for preparing your advance directive, please read all the instructions.
  - Your state-specific advance directive forms, which are the pages with the gray instruction bar on the left side.

ACTION STEPS

3. You may want to photocopy these forms before you start so you will have a clean copy if you need to start over.
4. When you begin to fill out the forms, refer to the gray instruction bars - they will guide you through the process.
5. Talk with your family, friends, and physicians about your advance directive. Be sure the person you appoint to make decisions on your behalf understands your wishes.
6. Once the form is completed and signed, photocopy the form and give it to the person you have appointed to make decisions on your behalf, your family, friends, healthcare providers and/or faith leaders so that the form is available in the event of an emergency.

Introduction to Your Florida Advance Directive

This packet contains the Advance Directive for Healthcare which protects your right to refuse medical treatment you do not want or to request treatment you do want in the event you lose the ability to make decisions yourself.

1. The Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate lets you name someone to make decisions about your medical care including decisions about life support if you can no longer speak for yourself. The Designation of Healthcare Surrogate is especially useful because it appoints someone to speak for you any time you are unable to make your own medical decisions, not only at the end of life.
2. The Florida Living Will lets you state your wishes about medical care in the event that you have an end-stage condition, become persistently vegetative, or develop a terminal condition and can no longer make your own medical decisions. A second doctor must agree with your attending physician's opinion of your medical condition.

Note: These documents will be legally binding only if the person completing them is a competent adult (at least 18 years old).

Completing Your Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate

Whom should I appoint as my surrogate?

A surrogate is the person you appoint to make decisions about your medical care if you become unable to make those decisions yourself. Your surrogate can be a family member or a close friend whom you trust to make serious decisions. The person you name as your surrogate should clearly understand your wishes and be willing to accept the responsibility of making medical decisions for you.

You can appoint a second person as your alternate surrogate. The alternate surrogate may act on your behalf if the first person you name as surrogate is unable, unwilling or unavailable to act for you.

How do I make my Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate legal?

The law requires that you sign your Designation of Healthcare Surrogate in the presence of two adult witnesses, who must also sign the document. If you are physically unable to sign, you may have another person sign for you in your presence and in the presence of the two witnesses. The persons you appoint as your surrogate and alternate surrogate cannot act as witnesses to this document. At least one of your witnesses must not be your spouse or a blood relative.

Note: You do not need to notarize your Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate.

Should I add personal instructions to my Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate?

One of the strongest reasons for naming a surrogate is to have someone who can respond flexibly as your medical situation changes and deal with situations that you did not foresee. If you add instructions to this document, you might unintentionally restrict your surrogate's power to act in your best interest.

Talk with your surrogate about your future medical care, and describe what you consider to be an acceptable "quality of life." If you want to record your wishes about specific treatments or conditions, you should use your Florida Living Will.

What if I change my mind?

You can always revoke your Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate if you no longer want your designated surrogate(s) to make decisions on your behalf. State law permits you to revoke your document in the following ways:

1. through a signed and dated writing showing your intent to revoke;
2. by physically destroying the original, or having someone destroy it for you in your presence;
3. by orally expressing your intent to revoke; or

Completing Your Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate (continued)

4. by executing a new Designation of Healthcare Surrogate that supersedes the older document.

You should also be aware that if you name your spouse as your surrogate and your marriage is subsequently dissolved or annulled, your former spouse will no longer be your surrogate unless you provide otherwise in your Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate.

What other facts should I know?

If you would like to give your surrogate the authority to refuse life-sustaining treatment for you in the event that you become terminally ill and incompetent while you are pregnant, you must add an instruction such as, "My surrogate has the authority to order the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment even if I am pregnant," under "Additional instructions."

Completing Your Florida Living Will

How do I make my Florida Living Will legal?

The law requires that you sign your Living Will in the presence of two adult witnesses, who must also sign the document. If you are physically unable to sign, you may instruct one of the witnesses to sign the document for you in your presence. At least one of your witnesses must not be your spouse or a blood relative.

Note: You do not need to notarize your Florida Living Will.

Can I add personal instructions to my Living Will?

Yes. You can add personal instructions in the part of the document called "Additional instructions. If you have appointed a surrogate and you want to add personal instructions to your Living Will, it is a good idea to write a statement such as, "Any questions about how to interpret or when to apply my Living Will are to be decided by my surrogate."

What if I change my mind?

You can revoke your Florida Living Will any time you feel the document no longer reflects your wishes. State law permits you to revoke your Living Will in the following ways:

1. through a signed and dated writing showing your intent to revoke;
2. by physically destroying the original, or having someone destroy it for you in your presence;
3. by orally expressing your intent to revoke; or
4. by executing a new Living Will that supersedes the older document.

As with the Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate, if you name your spouse as your surrogate but your marriage is later dissolved or annulled, your former spouse will no longer be able to serve as your surrogate, unless you provide otherwise in your Living Will.

What other facts should I know?

You may appoint a surrogate in your Living Will to make decisions on your behalf. Unlike a surrogate appointed in your Designation of Healthcare Surrogate, a surrogate appointed through your Living Will may only act in the following circumstances: You are unable to make treatment decisions and do not have a reasonable medical probability of recovering that capacity, and you have an end-stage condition, or are in a terminal condition; or are in a persistent vegetative state. To avoid confusion, you should appoint the same person to act as your surrogate in both Florida documents.

You Have Filled Out Your Advance Directive, Now What?

1. Your Florida Living Will and Florida Designation of Healthcare Surrogate are important legal documents. Keep the original signed document in a secure but accessible place. Do not put the original document in a safe deposit box or any other security box that would keep others from having access to it.
2. Give photocopies of the signed originals to your surrogate and alternate surrogate, to your doctor(s), family, close friends, clergy and anyone else who might become involved in your healthcare. If you enter a nursing home or hospital, have photocopies of your document placed in your medical records.
3. Be sure to talk to your surrogate (and alternate), your doctor(s), clergy, family and friends about your wishes concerning medical treatment. Discuss your wishes with them often, particularly if your medical condition changes.
4. If you want to make changes to your documents after they have been signed and witnessed, you must complete a new document.
5. Remember, you can always revoke your document.
6. Be aware that your document will not be effective in the event of a medical emergency. Ambulance personnel are required to provide cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) unless they are given a separate order that states otherwise. These orders, commonly called "non-hospital do-not-resuscitate orders," are designed for people whose poor health gives them little chance of benefiting from CPR. These orders must be signed by your physician and instruct ambulance personnel not to attempt CPR if your heart or breathing should stop.

Currently not all states have laws authorizing non-hospital do-not-resuscitate orders. We suggest you speak to your physician for more information. Caring Connections does not distribute these forms.
